When beginning to work with our client she envisioned turning her first floor into a space where she could not only cook and prepare delicious meals, but also host dinner parties and family gatherings over the holidays. Her main concern was that the dining and kitchen spaces were separated by walls. She also disliked the bottle neck created when walking in the front door. Working with Simply Home Interiors we were able to design a clean functional space that would suit all her needs. We started by removing the wall between the dining room and kitchen and hallway. Instantly this brought more light into the space. We also changed a broken patio slider into a single swinging french door. This allowed us to reposition the fridge, and add a much needed wine/beverage center. White cabinets, subway tile, and countertops added a fresh clean look to the space and allowed the custom colored island to stand out in the space. For more functional storage we added a beautiful hutch in the dining room with large drawer storage and roll out linen storage. The feet and molding around the piece really add to the furniture feel of the space. Finally an unused closet was converted into a laundry closet and the powder room updated with a new built in vanity.
